• I't impossible to single just one of these students out, they were all excellent. They were available at just about any hour on email threads and consistently contributed their own teleconferences and office hours to help out a class with nearly two hundred students at all levels of expertise. I'm sure they all have very full workloads of their own, so I admire their work ethic, knowledge and willingness to share. They're all superstars.

• Brain is very nice and is personable which is nice in a class of 400+ people. He is always willing to draw-out or describe a difficult topic.

• Brian is very fair and approachable. He is methodical and takes his time to help you understand what is going on.

• Brian is a very good TA because he is able to point out those places where your reasoning may be a bit misled and set you on the right track. I would prefer he was a bit more mindful on how to speak to students without inducing stress.

• He is very nice, approachable, and genuinely wants the student to succeed! Thank you Brian!
